Highest honours for key contributors to the Victorian veteran community

RSL Victoria congratulates those recognised in this year's Queen's Birthday Honours list for their service to Australian Defence Force (ADF), veteran, and their families.

RSL Victoria State President, Dr Robert Webster OAM, applauded those acknowledged in this year's list, saying their achievements and contributions to the ADF and the veteran community were well deserving of the recognition and celebration.

"It is with great pride that I congratulate, all of those who received Queen's Birthday Honours, especially, the six members of the RSL Victoria community.

"These members are a true representation of what the RSL is all about, supporting veterans and their families. Their contribution to the veteran community in Victoria is invaluable," Dr Webster said.

The following members of RSL Victoria were recognised on the Queen's Birthday honours list for their contributions to ADF, and the veteran community.

- Lee Webb, RSL Victoria Senior Vice President and President of the Greensborough RSL Sub-Branch.
- Robert Brown, President Cobram Barooga RSL Sub-Branch President
- Noel Lake, President of the Koondrook RSL Sub-Branch.
- Joyce Mills, Member of the Lang Lang RSL Sub-Branch.
- Geoff Dare, Member Waverley RSL Sub-Branch.
- Graham Lockwood, Member Caulfield RSL Sub-Branch

John "Jack" Muir was posthumously awarded an Order of Australia Medal in this year's Queen's Birthday Honours. Jack was a veteran and beloved member of Tatura RSL Sub-Branch. He passed away on May 20, 2020. Lest we forget.
